Star Trek Day

56 years ago today, the world didn't know they were about to witness the beginning of one of the biggest franchises. Where would we be without this little show?

Does anybody remember watching the first show on 09/08/1966? Share your story on our next Zoom Meeting.

September 11 attacks

On the morning of Tuesday, September 11, 2001, nineteen terrorists—directed by al Qaeda leader Osama bin Laden—hijacked four commercial airliners mid-flight while traveling from the northeastern U.S. to California. The attackers were organized into three groups of five members and one group of four, with each group including one designated flight-trained hijacker who took control of the aircraft. Their goal was to crash the planes into prominent American buildings, inflicting mass casualties and major structural damage. The hijackers successfully crashed the first two planes into the North and South Towers of the World Trade Center in New York City, and the third plane into the Pentagon in Arlington, Virginia. The fourth plane was intended to hit a federal government building in Washington, D.C., but instead crashed down in a field outside Shanksville, Pennsylvania, following a passenger revolt that foiled the attack

Svengoolie

Yes, once again, it's "back to ghoul" time — do I use that joke every September? I guess I never learn my lesson... but we have again arrived at the month that stands as the prequel to our favorite season — and gives us a little break between our hectic summer schedule (more about that later) and our annual Halloween happenings, which will have some extra excitement this year! Of course, we have a variety of horror from ecological terror to invaders from space, and from classic monsters to a much-requested favorite!
