Star Trek Day

57 years ago today, the world didn't know they were about to witness the beginning of one of the biggest franchises. Where would we be without this little show?

Does anybody remember watching the first show on 09/08/1966?

September 11 attacks

On the morning of Tuesday, September 11, 2001, nineteen terrorists—directed by al Qaeda leader Osama bin Laden—hijacked four commercial airliners mid-flight while traveling from the northeastern U.S. to California. The attackers were organized into three groups of five members and one group of four, with each group including one designated flight-trained hijacker who took control of the aircraft. Their goal was to crash the planes into prominent American buildings, inflicting mass casualties and major structural damage. The hijackers successfully crashed the first two planes into the North and South Towers of the World Trade Center in New York City, and the third plane into the Pentagon in Arlington, Virginia. The fourth plane was intended to hit a federal government building in Washington, D.C., but instead crashed down in a field outside Shanksville, Pennsylvania, following a passenger revolt that foiled the attack.

Consider this month's schedule as a worthy warm-up for October — as we present a nice mix of various horror genre films. We start off, appropriately, with the film that made Boris Karloff the king of horror: 1931's Frankenstein — truly a cornerstone of Universal's reign as a factory of fear! I wanted to mention — our friend the fine actor Joe Mantegna sent us an article by Tom Campbell that has resurfaced in the light of the current actor's strike — that reveals that Boris Karloff actually was a founding member of the Screen Actor's Guild! After facing some long hours and dangerous conditions on the set of Frankenstein, Boris joined with other actors to support the new movement to unionize screen actors. A group of actors actually met secretly in Boris' garage to shape the charter for the union. On his union membership card — he was member number 9! (Bela Lugosi, who we will see later in the month, was likewise an early supporter of the Screen Actor's Guild, having done the same kind of organization of actors back in Hungary!)
